

Posted December 12, 2011

We will be updating and posting new information bi-weekly, and we will also post a link to the past information, which we presented on this page, so that you may follow along in our journey.

One of our members has currently filed a lawsuit challenging the civil sentence of Lifetime Supervision. This is posted in the Lifetime Supervision section, but we have also post the link on the previous page, due to the seriousness of this issue. Hopefully the Court will make a timely decision, as they are under a timeline, if they accept it.

Shortly, we will be posting a link to a number of other lawsuits some of our members are currently filing in response to issues relating to conditions and Officers. Many of these are civil suits suing them for their actions.

There are a few more lawsuits coming from our members relating to other constitutional issues that relate to every offender on parole, probation, and lifetime supervision. Please stay up to date, and informed.

Many of our members are attending an Open Public Meeting that is supposed to be held on December 22, 2011. Details are a little sketchy right now, but please follow along, and we will update as soon as possible.

This relates to the registration laws, and the Legislative Committee that is overseeing these hearings. Please contact us to attend, and help our voice be heard.