

Posted September 7, 2012

We are sorry for the delay in posting and keeping you informed, however, we had a lot of issues on our plate. Please forgive us.

We have received a decision from the Judge regarding our challenge to Lifetime Supervision. We lost on the major issue, but we did win on a number of smaller issues, including the very important ones of jurisdiction, and the proper means of presenting the case to the Court. This is in effect for not only the Writ of Prohibition, but also for the Declaratory Judgments.

We will be posting all of the decisions in the next few days, and we will be updating many of the sections of our website.

Our organization will be posting a pay pal account on here to receive donations, and we are working on obtaining a tax-exempt status.

We do need your help in this, and we will ultimately win in this fight against the injustice perpetrated against us.

Stay tuned, we will update weekly or more often. Please help us to continue our fight.