

Story 22

I've been out of prison for about 3 years now. The whole time I have been in counseling at Red-rock Psychological Services. They move at a snail's pace and many should have graduated at least 1 year ago, I included. In my opinion they keep it slow to extend the cash cow that's been provided to them on a silver platter by P&P; us the parolee's by P&P.

It's $35.00 weekly and we have to submit about 8 assignments once in level 3 to graduate. I am in level 3 and am on assignment 6 and have been waiting 3 months now to submit my present assignment.

Most of the weekly sessions are consumed by " how was your week check in?" - not anything more.

Ridiculous. When you complain about it, the counselors get mad, and shit runs downhill, so it's a fight that we can't win. I'm personally burnt out. I've taken all these same programs in prison. I did 14.5 years for sexual assault on a prostitute.

My attorney is Robert Draskovich and I've been in the Supreme Court awaiting a decision for 2.5 years, moving towards a Federal Class Action with this same firm.

I am engaged to be married, have a good job and have 2 college degrees. Please contact me. I need as much help as I can get. I will supply you with whatever it is that you need. Donation included.

A member of Nevadans for Civil Liberties