

Story 25

My Parole & Probation officer Rosales scheduled me to take a polygraph test as part of my Lifetime Supervision agreement. I went in and had a legal paper about how the procedure was supposed to work. The polygrapher, IVMPD officer Jim Sackett started yelling at me and raising his voice from the start, which was intimidating and put me under duress. I stated that if he continues I will refuse the test because as part of his duty he is supposed to make sure I'm calm. Well he did the opposite. So I refused the test. They arrested me and booked me on a felony violation of Lifetime Supervision, which I spent jail time for. We called the polygraph division of examiners and they stated that what he did was an illegal procedure and to file a lawsuit against him and Parole & Probation. He has had many complaints already. Also, I have been harassed by my Parole & Probation officer ever since day one in many different situations.

A member of Nevadans for Civil Liberties